

PIPELINE AND PRODUCTION OPERATIONS TRAINING

Are you interested in a Career in Pipeline and Production Operations?

The Pipeline Operations Training Committee (POTC) is pleased to announce two new training programs designed to prepare Aboriginal and other Northerners for careers in oil and gas pipeline and production operations.

Pipeline and Production Operations Technical Training Program

This program is focused on preparing people for employment as Production/Field Operators or Engineering Technologists. Students will begin their studies in September of 2004 with Aurora College's Pre-Technology program. In September of 2005 students will proceed to one of five selected two-year technology diploma programs at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology (NAIT) or the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology (SAIT). Summer work placements in operations positions will be available with the industry partners of the POTC.

Pipeline and Production Operations Apprenticeship Program

This program provides apprenticeship opportunities for people interested in working as Electricians or Heavy Duty Mechanics at natural gas production and processing sites, compressor stations, pumping stations and other facilities. Individuals will work as an apprentice for a four-year period, with an 8-week session each year to attend vocational training at Aurora College or a college in Alberta.
